A Look Down the Road: Historic Route 20

At the next meeting of the Northborough Historical Society, Bryan Farr, founder of The Historic Route 20 Association, will speak on the historical and cultural significance of our town's main street and will highlight landmarks and less-remembered points of interest in Northborough and in neighboring communities.

From Kenmore Square to Newport, Oregon,

Northborough's Route 20 is the longest highway in the United States, stretching more than 3,000 miles in length.

Meeting and program at:

7:30 p.m. Friday, October 28, 2016

Northborough Historical Society, 52 Main Street, Route 20

The program is free and open to the public.
