Ulysses S. Grant was an excellent horseman. Just as the original, Sam Grant has had horses all his life and currently travels with four horses that have been selected and trained to authentically represent some of the General's finest steeds. In this once in a life time experience, Sam presents U.S. Grant, his horses, the role of the horse in the Civil War, and offers qualified horse lovers the opportunity to "Trail Ride with the General". Engagement Fee with USG Horses $700.

Testimonials

"The General snapped like an open fire during the question and answer session giving not only answers to the questions at hand but also Grant's take on the war at that time. ...as if you attended a briefing at the General's Headquarters. You felt like you might be called to arms yourself."

Thomas Daly, Curator of Education,
Norman Rockwell Museum

Working with Sam as I have, I can say only one thing: Sam is Grant! In addition to his extensive and intimate knowledge of the subject, his physical portrayal is remarkable. I once invited a client to attend an event. Upon arrival, the client was already in awe of the details and the overall environment that we recreate. Just then, Sam rode up on his horse, just over the hill. My client's jaw dropped as he looked back at me. 'That's General Grant,' he exclaimed. I replied simply, 'Yes, it is.'
