

The Water System

An advanced water system was built to support the water needs of the mansion and gardens. Bartlett pond was raised about 3 feet (B), a pumping station (C) was built on Stirrup Brook (D) which pumped water into a cistern (E) that gravity fed water to the mansion (A). In addition several wells were dug (F). Imagine all the construction required for this water system.

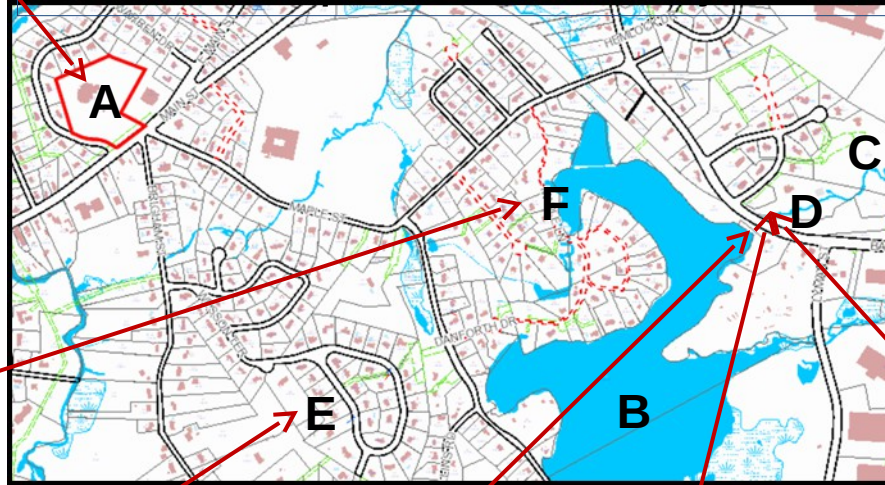

Lion Fountain in Town Center

Covered Well

Top of Cistern

Bartlett Pond Spillway

Bartlett Pond Spillway

Pumping Station in 1880's

Pumping Station Today

Bartlett Pond Spillway